

Beautiful Dreamer

BEAUTIFUL DREAMER

Carolyn Malachi

GOLD

Somewhere there's a nothing
Waiting to become something
Fighting all the writing
Hiding from the lightning
We are in the suburbs
Racing to red lights
Having close encounters
Far away from home

Beautiful Dreamer
(You're so beautiful)
Beautiful Dreamer
(You're so beautiful)

It's a never ending story
Dying for the glory
Living through the pain
You can do anything
Despite what you've heard
You're on the verge
Of more than you can conceive
The world needs you
You need to be heard
I know it hurts
but I love you here
I love you here

In my heart
And in my mind
You're like a line
You're beautifully written
You've got me smitten
And dreamer I like it
Ohhhh, dreamer I love it
Can't hate it, can't stand it

[Jazz scat vocals]

Beautiful Dreamer
Do you believe?
The world is yours
You can do anything
Anything

When the world turns ugly
You must think yourself beautiful
When the world makes you feel weak
You must be strong

Beautiful
Please don't give up
Beautiful
The world needs you
Please, please don't give up
Beautiful
Please stay
Beautiful
Keep pushing
Keep trying
Keep living
Keep thriving
You can do it
You
You can do it
Beautiful

Hey dreamer
I believe in you
You can do anything
Said, you can do anything
Beautiful Dreamer

*Lyrics (melody and words) written and performed by Carolyn Malachi for Carolyn Malachi Legacy Brands (ASCAP).
Arrangement by Carolyn Malachi. Produced by Matthew Shell (BMI). Engineered by Derrick Atwater. Piano by Vahagn Stepanyan. Djembe by Jabari Exum. Guitar by Devin Spear. Bass by Marcus Huber. Recorded at Assemblyline
Studios, Vienna, VA*

