

Don't

DON'T

Carolyn Malachi & Tabi Bonney

GOLD

Black and long
Short or bronzed
As long as it's strong, you can't go wrong

Where are my panties?
Damn, I was planning to be gone by dawn.
I hope he doesn't think that I'm in love.
He would be all kinds of wrong.

Don't come any closer
I can't pretend anymore that I'm that happy-go-lucky girl you fell for
Back away from me
Codependency is a disease

Here comes that sinking feeling.
All I need is a hug and I got way too much pride to ask for one.
Don't want you to judge me.
No one could ever love me when I get like this.
I feel a tap on my shoulder
He's getting longer the longer I lay here
Yo, it's cool for now
Just don't let me hear it all over town.
No, dear.
Lemme make something perfectly clear.

Don't come any closer
I can't pretend anymore that I'm that happy-go-lucky girl you fell for
Back away from me
Codependency is a disease

(Tabi Bonney)

She always been about it
Her heart, I'm tryna rob it
She keep her guard up and told me that she truly doubt it
I told her I'm committed
I told her she could get it
Our relationship has always been open ended
I told her let me love her
She told me ask another
Cause she been hurt too many times by all these these no-good brothers
It's such a vicious cycle
Baby, I'm just not your rival
And I know that emotionally, it's all about survival
But you know that I got you
These other women not you
Bag lady, if it's too heavy I can just spot you
I know that you a softy on the inside
I know that you been fighting and you been tired
But you don't have to fight no more
I am not your enemy if love is what we fighting for
I'm just trying to give you more
So, tell me what we fighting for

Don't come any closer
I can't pretend anymore that I'm that happy-go-lucky girl you fell for
Back away from me
Codependency is a disease
